

Name	Climate Change & Tourism: Impacts and Adaptation for Coastal Communities in Nova Scotia (2012)
Description	This two-page factsheet directed toward tourism businesses describes ways that rural and coastal communities may be vulnerable to climate change impacts and opportunities tourism businesses have to prepare for these changes. It outlines benefits of adapting and provides specific measures to consider in response to common threats such as droughts and increased food costs.
Type	- PRODUCTS: Plans, Assessments, Studies - PRODUCTS: Engagement
Sector	- Infrastructure - Recreation and Tourism
Focus Area	- Coasts and Climate Resilience (including sea-level rise) - Climate Impacts on Water Resources
Region
Lead Agencies	Ecology Action Centre Canada's Rural Partnership
Contacts	Cheticamp@ecologyaction.ca